

the GOAT HILL MUSEUM STORE

Owned by the Alabama Historical Commission

For Immediate Release
November 21, 2016

THE GOAT HILL MUSEUM STORE TO HOST BOOK EVENT WITH ALABAMA FOOD CELEBRITY

The Goat Hill Museum Store (inside the historic Alabama State Capitol at the Union Street entrance) will host a book signing with Christy Jordan, author of Sweetness: Southern Recipes to Celebrate the Warmth, the Love and the Blessings of a Full Life on Tuesday, December 6, 2016 from 11:00am-1:00pm.

Jordan, an Alabama food celebrity, is a successful author, cook, and TV personality. Her deep southern roots are evident in her newest book Sweetness, which is centered on family and tradition.

In Sweetness Jordan celebrates the sweet spirit and taste of Southern hospitality while reflecting on the values she learned from her parents and grandparents. "That generation is the greatest people that have ever been on Earth," she said. "If I have an ability to make them known to the rest of the world, how they were, how they loved and shaped me, I want to do that."

"The dinner table is kind of the anchor that holds the family together." That's why "Sweetness" works so well as both a cookbook and a good reminder of what matters. (quotes retrieved from http://www.al.com/opinion/index.ssf/2016/10/alabama_food_celebrity_christy.html)

Stacey Little, author of The Southern Bite Cookbook, will also be featured and available for book signings.

Copies of Sweetness will be available for purchase at the Goat Hill Museum Store.

For more information please call (334)353-4969 or find us on Facebook!

The store is owned by the Alabama Historical Commission, and all profits help continue efforts to preserve Alabama's historic places.

About the Alabama Historical Commission

Located in historic downtown Montgomery at 468 S. Perry Street, the Alabama Historical Commission is the state historic preservation agency for Alabama. The agency was created by an act of the state legislature in 1966 with a mission of safeguarding Alabama's historic buildings and sites. The Commission is tasked with the acquisition and preservation of historic properties and educating the public about historic sites in Alabama. For a complete list of properties owned and operated by the AHC, hours of operation, and admission fees please visit www.ahc.alabama.gov

####