

Alabama Trust for Historic Preservation

Alabama Historical Commission

Black Heritage Council

Call for Proposals

Tuscaloosa, Alabama

April 25-27, 2019

The Alabama Trust for Historic Preservation, Alabama Historical Commission, and Black Heritage Council invites proposals for its special Alabama Bicentennial Meeting, in partnership with the Alabama Historical Association, in Tuscaloosa, Alabama on April 25-27, 2019. This meeting is open to historic preservationists, public historians, local historians, educators, students, and others who share an interest in the preservation and history of Alabama. Themes include Investing in Preservation, Preservation Technology, Forgotten or Little-Known Places, Documentation of Historic Places, Hands-on Workshops, and Innovative Preservation Partnerships.

Proposals should include a 1 – 2 paragraph detailed description of a 20-minute presentation, 60-minute panel, or 2-hour workshop on an Alabama preservation or history topic and a curriculum vitae or resume that includes the author's email address, postal address, telephone number, and organizational or academic affiliation (if any). Proposals should also indicate if the presenter will require any technical equipment such as projectors, sound equipment, etc.

Proposals must be submitted by November 15, 2018. Electronic submissions are preferred.

All presenters are required to register for the conference. Students may be eligible for a special rate.

Please submit your proposal to the program chair:

Pamela Sterne King
Assistant Professor of History and Historic Preservation
Department of History
University of Alabama at Birmingham
pamking@uab.edu; 205-908-3975