12/24/2021 - 12/27/2021

MURRAY FAMILY FARMS

Cara Cara Oranges

15777 | $47.25 | 10LB

The Cara Cara orange has a trifecta of attributes. It has the initial appearance of a true orange.

Its peel is smooth, yet pebbled and when zested releases bright floral aromatics. It is easy to peel and when its flesh is revealed, it reflects the color of ruby grapefruit.

It tastes sweeter than any given orange with flavors far more comparable to tangerines with robust and complex citrus aromatics. Its flesh is also seedless, an advantage among any fruit. When ripe, the Cara Cara orange's flesh is tender, succulent and extremely juicy.

MURRAY FAMILY FARMS

Limequats

15946 | $65.00 | FLT

Limequats are the size of a kumquat, petite and oval with rounded ends. Their skin's coloring, when mature, is a warm yellow-green.

The peel is thin, fragrant and sweet while its flesh is tart, much like a key lime and it bears a handful of thin seeds. Most Limequats have the juiciness of a key lime and the shape and tart qualities of a kumquat.

MURRAY FAMILY FARMS

Tarocco Blood Oranges

17998 | $47.25 | 10LB

Tarocco blood oranges are medium to large in size, and are globular to round in shape.

The flesh can range in color from orange with light blushes of pink to a deeper ruby red, depending on growing temperatures. The soft flesh is also nearly seedless, juicy, and is divided into 10-12 segments by thin membranes.

Tarocco blood oranges are the sweetest of all the blood orange varieties and have a bright and balanced flavor with

MURRAY FAMILY FARMS

Melogold Pomelo

15639 | $33.75 | FLT

The Melogold Pomelo is a cross between a Pomelo and a White Grapefruit.

This fruit is extremely large with yellowish green pebbly skin and pale yellow flesh that is sweet-tart in flavor.

Like a Pummelo, this fruit has a thicker rind than regular grapefruit, is almost seedless and is very juicy.

The Melogold is an outstanding hybrid, available for a few short months.

MURRAY FAMILY FARMS

Fukushu Kumquats

15640 | $78.00 | FLT

Fukushu Kumquats are slightly different than those that may be more familiar in North America.

The fruits are two to three inches in diameter, and are rounder.

The rind is thin and orange or light gold, and covers an orange flesh divided into five to eight segments with a few seeds. The flavor is sweet and tart, though not overwhelmingly so.

Unlike most other citrus, Fukushu kumquats can be eaten whole, including the rind and seeds.

MURRAY FAMILY FARMS

Santa Teresa Lemons

17999 | $47.25 | 10LB

Santa Teresa lemons are large, with a round, elongated shape.. The medium thick rinds are bright yellow and have deep oil glands that release a distinctly intense citrus aroma.

The pale-yellow flesh is very juicy and contains few seeds.

Santa Teresa lemons have a rich lemon flavor that is high in acidity with a slight sweetness.

The large lemons are used for their zest, rind and juice.

Most often, Santa Teresa Lemons are used for making limoncello.

Meet Your Farmer

Steve Murray was born to a family strong of farmers going 5 generations back. Steve was on the path to following those footsteps, carrying on the legacy of the Murray farmers. At the age of 18, Steve lost his father. At a time when Steve was attending college to compliment generations of traditional knowledge of the land with a degree in plant sciences, the upset unfortunately caused the family to lose everything they had. That didn't stop Steve from keeping the generational farming alive. Steve Murray doubled down and struggled through this difficult period, but eventually graduated from college to become a member of the agriculture industry as a consultant.

He always knew he would return to follow his family roots and return to the farm. Steve met his wife Vickie, who worked in restraunts and foiund they shared a passion for the land in different ways.

In 1983 the pair would get closer to Steve's wish, starting S.M. Apiaries. It quickly grew to 300 beehives, and gave him the windfall he needed to take the next big jump. They traded their small Bakersfield home for a 20 acre table grape farm in the country, and sectioned off 10 of those acres to try out growing cherries in the valley. They would go on to sell produce from a small table and tent in front of their acreage off the edge of the 58 free-way, traveling hundreds of miles to attend Farmers Markets with children in tow.

It would take another 6 years before their test cherries would harvest, and it was immediately apparent that their choice to try out cherries would become a special one. The mixture of the placement of the mountains and nutrients of the soil matching the cherries natural chemistry. They were featured in the L.A. times for having the best cherries at the Hollywood Farmers Market in only it's 11th year, giving them the boost they needed to trade the small road side tent for a trailer that could be air conditioned by way of fans, open doors and area coolers.

As it stands, Murray Family Farms and their famed cherries and other produce is available all across California, Nevada, and to Japan where they are hailed for their quality and sold as a luxury in the birthplace of the cherry.
