

Reverse Channel Letters

If you are looking for a unique custom look for your next sign project then consider Reverse Channel Letters. These types of signs are illuminated with LEDs, providing a backlit halo effect.

They are often called "halo" or "backlit" letters because the letters are mounted away from the wall, causing the light to form a halo effect behind the sign.

How We Manufacture Reverse Channel Letters

We manufacture our reverse channel letters faces with precision-routed aluminum .080 that is our standard gauge. .090 and .125 aluminum are also used as required by construction and customer specifications.

The returns are standard .063 aluminum at 3" depth, welded construction for a more custom feel to your sign. Other depths range from 1" to 4" at request. The backs are 3/16" polycarbonate with mounting and electrical holes CNC cut into the backing. Lighting is entirely optional but we do offer a complete line of LED modules to fit your needs. LEDs are installed on the polycarbonate backs facing the inside of the letter cap. UL or Non-UL listed.

Mounting options include: Remote-Preassembled, Raceway Mounted, Cabinet Mounted, Square Tube Grid, and Aluminum Panel. Custom mounting options are available at request.

Our Reverse Channel Letter Products:

Illuminated Reverse Custom Logos and Illuminated Reverse Channel Letters

- LED Illuminated Reverse Custom logos feature an aluminum face and return, but a clear polycarbonate back allowing the light to create a halo effect around the letters or logos.

Non-Illuminated Reverse - Non-Illuminated Reverse Channel Letters are typical for both indoor and outdoor installations: Office entries, counter top fronts, monument signs, storefronts and many other applications. Reverse Channel Letters provide your customer with a professional appearance for years to come.

Anodized faces - These reverse channel letter faces are covered with an anodized laminate that gives them the look of real gold or silver. There are 2 available laminate options: Brushed Clear Brushed Gold

Get a FREE quote today! Don't hesitate to contact our sales reps with any questions. You can always call or email with any questions regarding your quotes and projects!