BMSA's Health & Safety Guidelines 2020-21

During these unprecedented times, BMSA's goal is to host professional development programs for our members while keeping our attendees and instructors as safe as possible. We are working closely with our venues to take appropriate precautions and will do our best to follow the guidelines issued by the Centers for Disease Control (CDC), as well as those issued by state and local authorities and the hosting venue. We respectfully ask that all attendees help us to preserve a safe environment by adhering to the information provided in your class confirmation.

Items you will be expected to bring with you:

- Mask
- Writing Utensil
- Notebook

BMSA will contact all class attendees or supervisors one week before the education event they are attending. Along with information on where and when, BMSA will include items that are required to be brought by attendees and any further guidance we have been given by the hosting facility. Hotels and other locales you are visiting during this time period may have their own requirements. Please be sure to consult those venues and ensure you have supplies and information in order to fulfill their requests.
