PRIVACY BRIEF

At Nerd Crossing, we prioritize the confidentiality of your information with utmost seriousness. Our commitment is to use your information exclusively for internal marketing purposes. We assure you that we neither sell, rent, nor lease our subscription lists, and your personal details will never be disclosed to third parties.

In alignment with the CAN-SPAM Act, we ensure that every email dispatched from our team is clearly identified, providing transparent information on the sender and easy methods to contact them. Additionally, each email includes a straightforward option for you to unsubscribe from our mailing list, ensuring you have complete control over receiving further communications from us. This feature is designed to respect your preferences, allowing you to modify your areas of interest or cease all email interactions with us.

For those who decide that they no longer wish to receive our newsletters, the process to opt out is simple: just click the unsubscribe link found at the bottom of any email from us. Should you change your mind, re-subscribing is possible through any retained Constant Contact emails or via our sign-up forms.

We welcome your inquiries or feedback. Do not hesitate to reach out to us with any questions or comments you may have. If you have questions or comments, feel free to contact us.

Sincerely,
Nerd Crossing Team
