PRIVACY POLICY

A Safe Haven Foundation (ASHF) strongly believes in protecting the integrity and privacy of personal information gathered from our supporters and others through all our communication channels and from visitors to our website. The protection of your privacy is of great importance to us.

We have created this privacy policy to communicate our practices regarding the collection and dissemination of personal information that is provided to us and that can be linked to a specific individual, such as a name, postal address, telephone number(s), email address, among other information (hereinafter "Personal Information"), as well as certain non-personally identifiable information collected when you visit many of our web pages such as the type of browser you are using (e.g., Internet Explorer or Firefox), the type of operating system you are using (e.g., Windows XP or Mac OS), the domain name of your internet service provider (e.g., AT&T or Verizon), aggregate data about the number of visits to the site and/or aggregate data about the pages visited (hereinafter "Aggregate Data").

This policy also applies when you use social media that overlaps ASHF's social media and/or website, as well as to personal information we collect offline. This policy does not apply to information or data ASHF purchases from other sources. See our supplemental donor privacy policy for how we use the information we collect through social media fundraising efforts, including but not limited to GiveButter and similar mobile text to give programs and which applies to donors in tandem with this Privacy Policy.

This policy will be updated periodically, so please be sure to reread it from time to time. The most recent date the privacy policy was updated is provided at the top of the page. By submitting your personal information to us, you agree that ASHF may use the information in accordance with this privacy policy.

A Safe Haven Foundation's Collection and Use of Personal Information:
ASHF collects Personal Information supplied to us voluntarily by individuals, supporters, volunteers, and visitors to this website. We may use such voluntarily provided information to improve our understanding of your interests, to improve our services, or to contact you for future support. In order to utilize certain features of our site or receive information from ASHF or make a donation, you may choose to provide Personal Information. If you do submit information to us, we will use that information for the purposes for which it was submitted. We may also use your information in other ways, such as to contact you about other ASHF activities and/or fundraising campaigns, to conduct matching on Facebook or other social media, or as otherwise disclosed to you at the point of collection. We may also use your name, postal address and telephone number(s) to contact you offline.

In the event an employer establishes a giving fund their employees can contribute to, ASHF will ask for the donor (employee's) consent in sharing their personal information back with the employer, for the limited purposes of substantiating the donation and acknowledging the employee's support.

If you do not wish us to contact you offline, receive such mailings or share your information with these organizations, you may opt-out by contacting us in accordance with the "Opt-Out" section of this policy.

ASHF uses third-party vendors to provide services on this website and in offline business operations. The information that you submit on this site may be provided to those vendors on a confidential basis so that those vendors can provide services (such as maintaining our database, sending email messages, facilitating fundraising activities, or processing credit card transactions) on our behalf.

Other than as described in this privacy policy, or as may be necessary to protect the rights, property, and safety of our organization or others, or as may be necessary to comply with applicable law, ASHF will not give or sell the Personal Information you provide online.

Use of Email Address:
When you donate to ASHF or sign up on our website, take an advocacy action, share your story or complete some other data form, you will be asked to supply your email address. ASHF does not sell or rent your email address to any third party. Email addresses gathered from donors or subscribers to ASHF are only available to employees managing this information for purposes of contacting you or sending you emails based on your request for information to contracted service providers and vendors for purposes of providing services relating to our communications with you. ASHF will only use your email address to send information about ASHF and our network (such as news and events, special programs, and fundraising). From time to time, we may send out email messages that might include information about like-missioned organizations and companies, but we do not provide them with access to any Personal Information that you have provided.

ASHF complies with those provisions of the CAN-SPAM Act applicable to charitable organizations. All email messages contain a link to unsubscribe from ASHF email. You may subscribe or unsubscribe to ASHF at any time by contacting A Safe Haven Foundation or sending a notice by United States mail to the following address at the end of this policy.

Please see our Donor Privacy Policy for how we use other Personal Information collected from donors to A Safe Haven Foundation.

User Submissions:
A Safe Haven Foundation welcomes your comments and participation on its site. However, you acknowledge that if you send us creative suggestions, stories, photos, videos, ideas, notes, drawings, concepts, or other information, the information shall be deemed, and shall remain, the property of A Safe Haven Foundation. By submission of any information to us, you assign to us and we shall exclusively own all now known or hereafter existing rights to such information and shall be entitled to unrestricted use of the information for any purpose whatsoever, commercial or otherwise, without compensation.

As a user of this site, you are responsible for your own communications and are responsible for the consequences of their posting. Therefore, do not impersonate another person and not transmit material to us that is copyrighted, unless you are the copyright owner or have the permission of the copyright owner to post it; do not send material that reveals trade secrets, unless you won them or have the permission of the owner; do not send material that infringes on any other intellectual property rights of others or on the privacy or publicity rights of others; do not send material that is obscene, defamatory, threatening, harassing, abusive, hateful, or embarrassing to another user or any other person or entity; and do not send sexually explicit images, advertising or solicitations of business, or chain letters.

You represent and warrant that any information and/or material you post or provide to A Safe Haven Foundation through any medium is truthful, accurate, not misleading, not confidential property of others, and not in violation of any other third party's rights. Furthermore, you acknowledge and agree that all submissions will become the property of ASHF and that ASHF has the right to publish or republish the submission for any type of use including for promotional and advertising purposes without compensation to you of any kind. Should your submission include third party materials, you grant, represent, and warrant that you, as well as the owner of such content, have expressly granted ASHF a royalty-free, perpetual, irrevocable, worldwide exclusive license to use the submission in any manner, media or form now known or hereafter developed.

Cookie Policy; Pixel tags, and other tracking technologies:
We use cookies, small files that are sent to your Web browser and stored on your computer's hard drive, to improve our site's operation. The cookie is used to speed up your access to the site and the information you wish to see, as well as for website analytics, marketing efforts, and for functionality. We may also use other tools to collect data when you visit our website, including pixel tags and other tracking technologies.

The A Safe Haven Website may use "cookies" and similar tools like pixel tags and similar tracking technologies, to collect aggregate statistical information and data. Aggregate information does not identify any individual person. We may use or disclose aggregate information for any purpose. The majority of browsers accept cookies, but your browser should also give you options for preventing, accepting, or receiving notice of new cookies. Please be advised that if you block cookies, some site functionality may be lost.

Types of Cookies We Use:
We may use the following types of cookies on our site:

Session cookies – These are temporary cookies that remain in the cookie file of your browser until you close the browser. This cookie is automatically placed onto your browser by the server software.

1. Analytical cookies – Our website uses third-party cookies, such as Google Analytics for the following purposes cookie to record the time of your first visit to website, the time of your most recent visit to the website and the time of your current visit;
    - a cookie to record your device type;
    - a cookie to record your geolocation;
    - a cookie to record which page(s) you visit on the website;
    - a cookie to record how long you stayed on the website;
    - a cookie to record how you located our website (i.e. Google search, keyword, link from other page etc.); and
    - cookies to provide additional analytical data regarding your use of our site.

2. Third-Party "Cookies" - We use third-party advertising companies to create and distribute advertising on our behalf. These companies may also employ cookies and action tags (also known as single-pixel gifs or web beacons) to measure advertising effectiveness. Any information these third parties collect via cookies and action tags is anonymous.

A Safe Haven Foundation also partners with digital platforms that utilize cookies for website retargeting. The purpose of website retargeting is to find visitors of these partners advertising clients' properties (websites, apps, and newsletters) and send them digital advertising based on their visit or interaction with the client's owned properties or advertising. The digital platforms use cookies to identify users and then personalize ads based on their browsing experience.

We only share the information obtained through the use of Google Analytics with Google. For more information on Google's use of your information, please see Types of Cookies Used by Google. The cookies we use for these purposes do not track your Internet usage after leaving our website and do not store your personal information. They will not be used in connection with any other information to identify you in any way. Google Analytics collects information anonymously. It reports website trends without identifying individual visitors. However, outside of the Google Analytics platform, ASHF may use unique IDs to link Personal Information to Google Analytics data.

You can opt-out of Google Analytics without affecting how you visit our site – for more information on opting out of being tracked by Google Analytics across all websites you use, visit this Google page.

More broadly, we may work with data providers to target advertising to you personally, through online and offline methods including email, display media and direct mail. This advertising may be directed to you because you visited or logged in to our website. When we generate this advertising, data we collect from you through online cookies and other technologies may be combined with other de-identified data (such as a hashed, non-readable email or postal address) in order to tailor ads to you based on your preferences and other information about you. To learn more about targeted advertising, these providers, or how you may opt-out, please visit the DAA's consumer choice page at http://www.aboutads.info/choices.

Technologies other than HTTP cookies may be used by third parties in a similar way, to recognize the email recipients' computer or device and to keep track of which user identities match to which devices or browsers, and those technologies may not respond to browser settings that block conventional cookies. You may opt of many of these types of technologies by visiting the Network Advertising Opt Out page. You can also opt-out of display remarketing ads directly by clicking on the blue triangle called 'AdChoices' in the right-hand corner of the ad and follow the instructions. Please note if you delete your cookies or switch devices this exclusion won't carry over. We are not responsible for third parties' use of cookies.

Disabling cookies
If you wish, you can usually adjust your browser so that your computer does not accept cookies:

1. Go to the heading "Manage Cookies" and click onto the option you prefer, either stopping cookies being installed, or notifying you of them;
2. From the list provided, click onto the program which your computer uses; if this is not shown on the list, click on the "help" heading on the bar at the top of this page, search for information on "cookies" - an explanation of how to delete cookies will appear, then follow the instructions.

Alternatively, you can adjust your browser to tell you when a website tries to put a cookie on your computer.

How you adjust your browser to stop it accepting cookies or to notify you of them, will depend on the type of internet browser program your computer uses. You can follow the appropriate instructions for your specific browser type at https://www.aboutcookies.org. (Again, we are not responsible for external websites).

Cookies do not contain confidential information such as your home address, telephone number or credit card details. We do not exchange cookies with any third-party websites or external data suppliers. If you do choose to disable cookies, you may find that certain sections of our site do not work properly.

Social Networks
If you use social media logins (like Google and Facebook) to log into our website, we may access your public social media profile information. You can always limit this sharing using your social media service settings.

External Links
Links to other Websites do not imply an endorsement of the materials disseminated at those Websites, nor does the existence of a link to another site imply that the organization or person publishing at that site endorses any of the materials at this site. Links to other Websites are provided by A Safe Haven Foundation as a convenience to its users. A Safe Haven is not responsible for the materials contained at any Website linked to this site. If you visit the Websites of any of our partners, please consult their privacy policy. Our privacy policies and terms of use apply only to your use of the ASHF site and direct interactions with ASHF. We do not disclose personally identifiable information to those operating linked sites and we are not responsible for their privacy practices.

Binding Effect/Modification of Policy and Terms
By accessing the A Safe Haven Website, you agree that the terms, combined with your act of using the website and/or services offered on or through the website have the same legal force and effect as a written contract with your written signature and satisfy any laws that require a writing or signature, including any applicable stature of frauds. You further agree that you shall not challenge the validity, enforceability or admissibility of the terms on the grounds that it was electronically transmitted or authorized. In addition, you acknowledge that you have had the opportunity to print the terms.

A Safe Haven may change this Privacy Policy and Terms of use at any time by posting the changed or amended Privacy Policy and Terms of Use on the Website. Your continued viewing of or use of this website following the posting of any changes to this Privacy Policy and Terms of Use will signify your assent to any such changes or amendments.
