Energy Justice Training During COVID & Beyond

COVID-19, has created new conditions for how people are living and moving in their homes. This four-part series gives advocates and service providers:

- Up-to-date information on public policies to protect families from being shut off during and after the COVID pandemic.
- Information on new and emerging rules adopted by the CPUC that protect families from shutoffs.
- Practical training on how to enroll in Medical Baseline, CARE, AMP & other programs that can reduce utility costs.
