At Camp Washington, we strive to...

Provide a place where children and staff can grow closer to God as revealed in Jesus Christ by providing opportunities for both community worship and personal exploration

Provide a place where individuals can enjoy themselves in an outdoor setting and grow individually by stressing personal involvement, education, and creativity

Provide a community in which individuals can learn the values of team work, interdependence, and independence by providing opportunities for camp-wide play, instilling communal ownership of camp facilities, and developing a sense of community amongst campers and staff

Help each person recognize our responsibilities to be stewards of our own natural and human resources
