Steven Moore
Senior Technical Leader
Cisco

Steven Moore, a senior technical leader in Cisco's Demo Center of Excellence, is located in RTP, NC. Steven has held diverse roles during his 23 year tenure with Cisco: Technical Support, Product and Proof of Concept Testing, and Software Engineering. Currently he helps lead the development and delivery of demonstrations of Cisco's wide portfolio of products and solutions where he focuses on technical innovation. These experiences range from demos featured on Cisco.com, solution demonstrations that are conducted for nearly one million customers per year, and complex solution-based proof of concept designs that are custom built and validated for Cisco's largest and most strategic customers. Steven is a regular Cisco conference speaker in the US and Europe since 2004, holds several patents, and an RFC.
