Hello, Pacific Symphony Volunteers!

I was delighted to see so many of you last night at Pacific Symphony's return to live musical performances at FivePoint Amphitheater! It was an amazing evening and, if you were there, you know exactly what I mean! I have included a few photos below to show you the amazing turnout!

And, since today is the day that many in our community actually have a day off to celebrate Independence Day with family and friends, I thought it appropriate to share this performance by Lee Greenwood. He is often called America's most patriotic ambassador, and two summers ago, Lee performed with Pacific Symphony at Pacific Amphitheatre to commemorate our Hail to the Heroes Concert. One of his most memorable songs is God Bless the U.S.A. I hope you enjoy listening to this rendition, on this special weekend, which includes Lee performing with United States military men and women across the country. It definitely moved me to tears, and it may do the same for you! Please open the attachment to hear: God Bless the U.S.A.

It brings me much joy to stay connected with you each week! Until I see you again, please stay well. Stay safe. Know how much we miss you.

Warm regards,

Abby
