

Swap Meet Report 2022

November 19th was the last of the four swap meets for 2022. The shows have progressed and have been well attended, we have a good number of solid vendors that can be counted on to be there for every show. These events can only happen with the support of the club and the volunteers to help with the logistics of putting on the shows. I would like to thank all the people who have helped and stood with me throughout this year. My wife Erin, who has been by my side all year, makes sure the restrooms are clean on Saturday morning, and had to do double duty last weekend as I could not be there for set-up. The set-up crew on Friday, Fred and Jackie Muller, Joe Penninger, Bob Barnes, Daniel Barnes, and Stan Newby. On event day, Erin, Darrell Clark, who helps with vendors, puts up and takes down signs, and Jerry, and his crew watches the door. Our son Daniel was on door duty last weekend. James Nance (Onward Arms), makes it possible to have a raffle every show. Vendors, without them, there would be no product. All the people stay late to reshape the event center for orientation. We have a new member, Warren Outlaw, who has volunteered to help, so look forward to meeting him at the next event. Also, all the members who attend make the events a success.

I have been able to learn quite a bit over the last year from all involved, and I am grateful for the learning experience. Erin and I are looking forward to next year and trying to improve in some areas to make the events better for everyone. We are putting dates together and hope to get them to everyone before the end of the year. Erin and I wish everyone a happy and joyous Holiday Season.
