LLSA for Today

By Drs. Ashley Booth-Norse & David Caro

Life Long Learning and Self-Assessment (LLSA) is one of the four components of ABEM's Maintenance of Certification program. Instructors will review articles chosen by ABEM for LLSA 2017-19, and participants will discuss how to integrate these principles of care into practice. At the end of each year's review, participants will take the corresponding year's LLSA test. Participants must bring their laptops & ABEM log-in information.

9:00 AM-12:00 PM

Pediatric Track:

This year's track will focus on pediatric trauma. Learners will engage in small group discussions with PEM experts and participate in hands-on practice with high-fidelity simulation of various pediatric trauma scenarios and procedures.

9:00 AM-9:20 AM

Pediatric Trauma Tidbits

By Dr. Tricia Swan

9:20 AM-9:30 AM

Pediatric Resuscitation Demonstration

By Drs. Shiva Kalidindi, Corinne Bria, Vanessa Perez

9:30 AM-9:50 AM

Non-Accidental Trauma

By Dr. Cristina Zeretzke

10:00 AM-12:00 PM

Simulation Workshop

By Drs. Todd Wylie, John Misdry, Corrine Bria, Vanessa Perez, Cristina Zeretzke

10:00 AM-12:00 PM

CORD Track:

10:00 AM-10:40 AM

Curriculum Development: Innovative Approaches to Resident Education

By Drs. Jay Ladde & Erich Heine
Emergency medicine residency education is constantly evolving. Join us as we discuss implementing exciting and invigorating ideas into the residency curriculum, including self-directed learning methods, innovative teaching formats and educational supplements to traditional didactics.

10:40 AM-11:20 AM

Delivering Effective Learner-Centered Feedback

By Dr. Matt Ryan

Providing feedback in a busy ED has its limitations. This session will define the importance of learner-centered feedback and how to provide feedback using "good judgment" in the ED. We will also review several models regarding the cognitive and emotional dynamics affecting learners.

11:20 AM-12:00 PM

Implementing Rapid Cycle Deliberate Practice in EM Residents

By Drs. Mark Supino & Kelly Medwid

Rapid cycle deliberate practice (RCDP) is a team-based simulation method consisting of progressively more challenging rounds with frequent pauses at any incorrectly performed critical action. Debriefing is done via quick bursts of feedback—or micro-debriefing—and then the scenario starts over. This allows for more repetitive, deliberate practice until mastery is achieved. Learn how to implement RCDP into a simulation curriculum for EM residents during this session.

Treating Hemophilia A in the Emergency Department

Sponsored by Genetech

12:30 PM-1:00 PM

Don't Get Trapped in an Electrical Storm: Strategies for Refractory VT

By Dr. Kevin Boehm

Electric Storm is defined as refractory ventricular tachycardia to convenient treatment. Once in this predicament, you can continue more of the same or try something else. Know your options.

1:00 PM-1:30 PM

Resuscitating Your Chart: Aligning the Critical Care You Provide With the Services You Claim

By Drs. Jason Adler & Andrea Brault

Approximately 5%-20% of your patients will be critically ill. There is a significant gap in what providers consider critical care and what they claim at the end of the encounter. We often lack sufficient training in documentation, but the implications can affect your revenue line, malpractice risks and compliance. What you don't know can hurt you.

Understanding MAT's Value in the ED's Care for Opioid Use Disorder

By Dr. Aaron Wohl

Opioid use disorder (OUD) is a rapidly growing and increasingly deadly national health crisis. Evidence is consistently pointing to the use of medication-assisted treatment (MAT) as a critical element of successful treatment. Lee Health began an initiative to increase access to MAT for OUD patients by initiating MAT in the ED setting. Learn about OUD patients, benefits and limitations of available medications, and how to initiate MAT in the ED in this session.

THE AGENDA

Day 3: General Conference

Saturday, August 3, 2019

CME

8:30 AM-10:00 AM

Emergency Medicine Town Hall Session

Led by Drs. Kristin McCabe-Kline and William Jaquis

There have been quite a few legal- and medical-related decisions made in the recent past that have and will continue to affect how we practice our craft. Join us for a discussion on these and other pertinent topics in emergency medicine. We will be hosting some of the most prominent leaders in ACEP leadership as well as FCEP leadership, and look forward to hearing from you as well!

11:00 AM-11:30 AM

Tachydysrhythmias

By Dr. Marshall Frank

During this presentation, we will review the differential diagnosis of tachycardias. There will be a review and discussion of broken down to narrow-complex regular tachycardias, narrow-complex irregular tachycardias, wide-complex regular tachycardias, wide-complex irregular tachycardias, and how to identify each one. This will be followed by a discussion on how to properly manage tachydysrhythmias.

11:30 AM-12:00 PM

"Why Don't You Get Better Already?" Counter Transference & Medical Decisions

By Dr. Veronica Tucci

Bias provides an incomplete explanation of provider reactions towards patients. Most providers are not aware of their biases. Cultural competency training is helpful, but not enough. This presentation will introduce the concept of instant countertransference ICT and illustration how it can be used in psychiatric and emergency medical settings.

12:00 PM-12:30 PM

Acute Management of Orthopedic Injuries for the EP

By Dr. James (Jace) Provo

While orthopedics represents up to 20% of our practice, we are traditionally bad at it. The orthopedic curriculum needs to be significantly addressed to provide better patient care and improve relationships with our orthopedic colleagues. This lecture is designed to improve orthopedic knowledge for the most commonly seen non-fracture pathologies in the emergency department: the shoulder, the knee and the ankle.

12:30 PM-1:00 PM

Gender Bias: What & Why in the ED?

By Dr. Cristina Zeretzke-Bien

Gender bias is becoming an ever-present term and relates to a seemingly more prevalent discussion in today's media. This

Check-In & Registration:
7:00 AM-2:00 PM

presentation will highlight current areas of disparity among specialties in medicine, including gender-based exclusion at multiple different training levels, and how to create a "just culture" in the ED to help prevent sexual harassment and discrimination.

1:00 PM-1:30 PM

Have an Abscess? Just LOOP It

By Dr. Jay Ladde

Skin and soft tissue infections comprise millions of ED visits every year in the U.S. With the emergence of MRSA, significant resources in the treatment of recurrent abscesses have been employed. This lecture will help highlight the modern day approach to skin abscesses and will cover recommendations on antibiotics as well as treatment options using data from recent scientific literature.

Accreditation Statements

ACCME & AMA: The Emergency Medicine Learning and Resource Center (EMLRC) is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

EMLRC designates this live activity for a maximum of 15.0 AMA Category 1 PRA Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

FPA: The Emergency Medicine Learning and Resource Center (EMLRC) is approved as a provider of continuing medical education by the Board of Florida Physician Assistants; Provider #50715. A maximum of 15.0 AMA Category 1 PRA Credits™ will be provided by EMLRC.

AAPA accepts certificates of participation for educational activities certified for AMA PRA Category 1 Credit™ from organizations accredited by the ACCME or a recognized state medical society. Physician assistants may receive a maximum of 15.0 hours of Category 1 credit for completing this program.

FBON: The Emergency Medicine Learning and Resource Center (EMLRC) is approved as a provider of nursing education by the Florida Board of Nursing, Provider #2731. Up to 13.0 nursing contact hours will be provided by EMLRC.

New Speaker Series:

10:00 AM-10:15 AM

Influenza: Updates on Current Research, Guidelines & Treatment

By Dr. Erich Heine

This presentation is designed to offer a brief review of influenza treatment and guidelines for management, with a focus on recent literature surrounding the topic. This common virus is one all EM physicians will encounter, so join me for a fast, fun and informative refresher.

10:15 AM-10:30 AM

Post-Repair Congenital Cardiac Catastrophe: Where the Shunt Hits the Fan

By Dr. Jesse Glueck

We all remember being taught to consider congenital heart defects when evaluating the undifferentiated sick neonate. But what do you do when a young patient who has had a congenital heart defect repaired comes into your ER on the verge of cramping? Grab an extra pair of underwear and come find out during Post Repair Congenital Cardiac Catastrophe: When the Shunt Hits the Fan.

10:30 AM-10:45 AM

Refractory VFib: Concepts Beyond ACS

Dr. Kenneth Frye

This presentation will introduce you to novel concepts in the treatment of refractory fibrillation when traditional ACLS algorithms are ineffective. Beta receptors blockade with Esmolol and dual-sequential defibrillation have shown some promise in the treatment of this rare, deadly condition. Concepts, highlights and recommendations reviewed.

10:45 AM-11:00 AM

Spontaneous Coronary Artery Dissection: an Overview of an Under-Recognized Disease

By Dr. Patricia De Melo Panakos

Spontaneous coronary artery dissection (SCAD) is a small percentage of all acute coronary syndrome (ACS) cases, and many physicians are unfamiliar with this infrequent cause of ACS. Emergency physicians should be aware of this uncommon disease process as patients with SCAD will often present to the ED. By the end of this talk, learners will be familiar with the pathophysiology, risk factors, presentation and management of SCAD.

SPECIAL EVENTS

9:00 AM-11:15 AM

SonoRace Competition

At our new ultrasound competition, SonoRace, Florida's emergency medicine residents will compete against each other to prove who possesses the best point-of-care ultrasound skills & knowledge. The reigning champions of this gamification-oriented event will go home with a trophy and bragging rights!
