THE PALM BEACH CIVIC ASSOCIATION PROUDLY WELCOMES DEBORAH NORVILLE AND DANIEL STANTON TO THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

---

Deborah Norville, a nationally acclaimed television journalist, and Daniel Stanton, a retired financial executive, bring invaluable perspective and experience to the organization.

Norville recently concluded a 30-year tenure as anchor of the syndicated television news magazine, “Inside Edition” in May 2025.

She is now turning her focus to a new trivia game show called, “The Perfect Line,” set to premiere this fall. Her distinguished career also includes roles as an anchor and correspondent for CBS News and co-host of Today on NBC.

A Civic Association Director since 2021, Norville was the featured speaker at a Signature Series program last January, where she shared insights into the rapidly evolving media landscape in a digital age.

Stanton, a Civic Association Director Since 2023, is a retired partner of Goldman, Sachs and Co., where he worked from 1981 to 2003.

He currently chairs the Town of Palm Beach Retirement Board of Trustees and is now serving his fourth three-year term. The board is responsible for managing pension fund assets for town employees.

Stanton is one of four co-founders of The Park West Palm, a world-class public golf course and learning center in West Palm Beach, designed by Gil Hanse. Stanton was instrumental in raising more than $50 million for the park in three months. The money was used to build the facility and to create an endowment.

Civic Association CEO Mary Robosson said the Executive Committee members bring great collective intelligence in support of the Association’s core mission: to protect and improve the quality of life in Palm Beach by taking proactive stands on civic affairs while engaging residents on key town issues.
