Sizzle is the American Culinary Federation's digital magazine that exclusively targets culinary and baking/pastry students in high schools, technical colleges and universities. Sizzle is published quarterly in the spring, summer, fall and winter.

Sizzle features articles about the latest culinary trends and career paths, featuring step-by-step demonstrations, recipes and interviews with leading chefs, including ACF members, and other experts and influencers in the culinary industry.

Sizzle articles are written with the culinary or baking/pastry student in mind to facilitate self-learning in core, foundational culinary skills. Contributors include professional chefs, culinary educators, food industry leaders and influencers, and paid freelance writers who are experts on food and beverage topics.

Sizzle is available on the ACF website and as a free app for smartphones and e-readers.
