

UT Southwestern Faculty: Guide to Faculty Resources and How to Raise Concerns

Faculty Resources

Faculty Resources - UT Southwestern, Dallas, Texas

Reporting Pathways

Reporting discrimination: Discrimination or Bias Reporting Form

Compliance concerns: Compliance: Administrative Offices - UT Southwestern, Dallas, TX

Pregnancy or other accommodations: <https://www.utsouthwestern.edu/about-us/administrative-offices/access/accessibility/pregnant-parenting.html>

Professionalism concerns: online form or email professionalism@utsouthwestern.edu

How do I raise a concern?

- Faculty concerns are often related to department or division level operations.
- If you have a concern in a particular area, consider first raising it to leadership in your division and/or department.

If the concern affects faculty on an institutional level, you can consider raising that concern to institutional leadership outlined below:

- Research Operations:
 - SPA
 - Megan Marks, AVP for SPA @ Email
 - Office of Faculty Affairs and Career Development
 - Alyssa Hasty, Senior Associate Dean for Faculty Affairs and Career Development @ Email
- Clinical Work:
 - Office of Faculty Wellness can help direct concern to the correct area.
 - Susan Matulevicius, Associate Dean of Faculty Wellness @ Email
- Educational Opportunities or Programming:
 - Faculty education:
 - Jessie Moreland, Associate Dean for Faculty Development @ Email
 - Christy Ahn, Director of Faculty Development @ Email
 - Resident education:
 - Office of Graduate Medical Education
 - Larissa Velez, Associate Dean for GME @ Email
 - Medical student education:
 - Office of Medical Education
 - James Willig, Associate Dean for UME @ Email
 - Graduate student education:
 - Andrew Zinn, Dean, UTSW Graduate School of Biomedical Sciences @ Email