THE SHORT HISTORY AND TENUOUS FUTURE OF “PROFESSIONALISM”

MATTHEW WYNIA, M.D., M.P.H.

Professor, CU School of Medicine and Colorado School of Public Health

Director, Center for Bioethics and Humanities, University of Colorado, Anschutz Medical Campus

The concept of professionalism in health care is both newer and more fragile than many assume. The history, strengths, risks, and alternatives to professionalism should be understood if we hope to create a future in which health professionals work well together in teams to effectively and ethically serve our patients and communities.

This live lecture will only be presented virtually.
