Cost Breakdown:

SRNA course with BLS* $584

SRNA course without BLS* $517

If you plan to take the state test, you will pay a $75 test fee to the testing site you select. This is not included in the cost of the course.

- Credit card, cash or money order all accepted. Make money orders payable to University of Kentucky.
- When the class is dropped at least seven days prior to the first day of class, a refund is provided. No other refunds are provided.
- Placement in the course cannot be guaranteed until cleared funds are received by the College of Nursing. Cleared funds are credit or debit card, money order or banker's check payments only

* American Heart Association Basic Life Support (BLS) certification is required. Red Cross certification does not qualify.

Attendance Policy

- Failure to attend the first day of class will result in forfeit of your spot in this class.
- Attendance is required for all class and clinical sessions. If you miss a class or clinical, you will not be able to continue in the course. We hold strictly to this policy due to state requirements for this course. Please arrange your schedule for the course period to allow you to attend all classes and clinical sessions
- Students do not need to wear scrubs to class, only to clinicals.

Clinical

- The two, 8-hour clinicals will be held at medical facilities within Lexington or a surrounding community. Students will need to provide their own transportation to the clinical site.
- Your instructor will give you more specific information related to your clinicals on the first day of class. Time may slightly vary on the clinical dates depending upon arrangements within the clinical site.
