Additional Details:

While we will host most of this event in air-conditioned spaces, some portions will take place outdoors. Early June weather in South Carolina can vary, so we recommend dressing comfortably and being prepared for warm temperatures.

This is a casual event. Our goal is for you to relax, have fun, and stay comfortable. Shorts, sandals, and other casual attire are perfectly acceptable—even for dinner. Following dinner, guests are encouraged to take the opportunity to explore and enjoy all that Greenville has to offer.

All training classes are approved for continuing education requirements through CSIA/NFI. Required documentation and onsite verification will be available so you can easily log your CEU credits.
