TRUE PATRIOT LOVE | Challenge FACTORY

Building a Veteran Friendly ONTARIO

VFO Challenge

Connecting Veterans transitioning into civilian work with business owners looking for great employees

Free, practical career training program on civilian workplaces and today's job markets

Three Sessions for Veterans

Online morning training, 8:00-9:30 EST
Cohort One - Sept 26, Oct 3, and Oct 19, or Cohort Two - Oct 24, Oct 31, and Nov 9

Seats are limited. Register today at bitly.ws/KY3r

Day 1: Focus on you & your military career transition

- Adopt a holistic approach to your career development
- Understand what drives your behaviour and motivates you, now and into the future
- Learn about civilian hiring and advancement practices
- Gain an insider's view with our business leaders panel and connect with Veteran Ready Employers

Day 2: Focus on civilian workplaces and job markets

- Explore your assumptions and curiosities about small to medium sized businesses (SME)
- Discover what business leaders think and know about you as a Veteran
- Contrast entrepreneurship with an entrepreneurial mindset
- Match military tools with business needs and growth strategies

Day 3: Focus on a business and test drive a civilian job

- Address a business challenge with a business leader using your military experience to bring fresh perspectives
- Get a gut feel for a day in the life of a small business owner
- Experience how SME's work
- Gain situational awareness about civilian job environments

Contact us - emree@challengefactory.ca

Did you know...

Statistics Canada considers a small enterprise as one with fewer than 100 employees. Medium-sized enterprises have 100 to 499 employees.

Small-and medium-sized businesses made up nearly all (98.1%) employer businesses in Canada in 2021.