Changing the world, one teen at a time

LEADERSHIP

Leadership skills to be covered through the program include dealing with change, understanding your personal strengths, improving communication, managing conflict, making decisions, building effective groups, planning and managing meetings, and strategizing and solving problems.

EDUCATION

Education topics include genocide and mass atrocities definitions, countries in crisis, and learning about specific interventions that JWW and our partners are doing to address the problems that stem from genocide and mass atrocities.

ADVOCACY

Advocacy topics will address public speaking, community organizing, meeting with elected officials and methods of taking persuasive action.

DEVELOPMENT

Development topics focus on fundraising techniques and ways to inspire friends and family to invest in strategies for change.
