

Camp 2017 was another success for the Religious Education committee. Twenty-four campers travelled five countries in five days. Highlights for the campers were the Holi Festival, when we travelled to India. The Holi Festival welcomes spring and keeps evil away. Colored dry paint is tossed into the air and all over everyone and it was a blast! Carnival day in China also brought smiles, as campers played games, won prizes, created Dali lamps, and Chinese dragons. A bounce house put an extra step in the day. Each day began with daily projects the best, building the highest tower of spaghetti and marshmallows while visiting France and pretending to visit a water filtering plant while in China.

A special Thank You to the following who helped make the week happen: Leading with Cindy Wakeland everyday were Julian Barbieri and Sarah Kimme. Volunteers during the week were Dave Stangl, Beth Cobb, Karen Folk, Marcy Joncich, Mary Foltz, Elly Peirson, and Joanne Giannino. Extra special thanks to Ralph Dady, who came and helped clean up every day after camp.

(Scroll to view some of the camp photos)

