Guiding Families Through Pediatric Vaccination

Today's information landscape can feel overwhelming for parents. This session will help you become a trusted source equipped to guide families toward choices that protect children's health and strengthen community well-being.

Join us for an empowering session designed to improve your confidence, sharpen your communication skills, and deepen your understanding of pediatric vaccination.

What to Expect:

- Clear, evidence-based insights into childhood immunizations and current vaccine recommendations.
- Facts to support informed decision-making while respecting family concerns.
- Opportunity to ask questions without judgment.
