Note from Mrs. Coogler

It's hard to believe we were only on campus for two days this week because we certainly packed a lot into them! One of the most impactful moments was our chapel message about doing hard things. We had the privilege of hearing from a former PCA student and member of our PCA family who shared his personal journey with autism and the powerful reminder that we really can do hard things, especially when we place our trust in the Lord!

The reality is that hard things can be frustrating, overwhelming, and sometimes leave us wanting to give up. Yet, God can use those very moments to strengthen our character, grow our faith, and continue His work of sanctification in our lives. My prayer is that our students left chapel encouraged and hopeful, knowing that even when things are difficult, they are never alone. God is still working, even in the hard things!

"Suffering produces endurance, and endurance produces character, and character produces hope." Romans 5:3-4

With God,
all things are possible

Happenings on Campus and at Home

What a fun week of learning and exploration! Last Friday, our first graders enjoyed their first field trip to the zoo, and they had a wonderful time! The animal excitement carried right into this week as our first and second graders explored all things bats during a fun-filled Bat Week. They had a BAT-tastic time! Meanwhile, our kindergartners got hands-on as they explored the inside of a pumpkin and even had some fun naming their pumpkin! When learning is paired with exploration and discovery, the sky truly is the limit!

Some of our students are taking full advantage of the flexibility our Hybrid schedule provides! Agnes and Katherine have been pursuing their interests through piano and art lessons outside of school. Way to go, girls! We can't wait to see you continue to grow in these talents!

We Love Seeing Learning at Home! Our satellite instruction days are an essential part of the consistency and success of our Hybrid program, and we love seeing how learning continues beyond our campus walls! Whether it's completing assignments, exploring new concepts, or putting learning into action, we would love to highlight those moments. Please feel free to share photos and updates with us at ccoogler@pantego.com. We love celebrating all the ways our students are growing!
