

MIDDLE SCHOOL MATTERS

EPHESIANS 4:32

Be kind and compassionate to one another, forgiving each other, just as in Christ God forgave you.

A NOTE FROM DIXON'S DESK

Middle School is undoubtedly a time of adjustment, growth and change! It's completely normal to experience some growing pains and challenges throughout this period of life. New expectations, changing dynamics in friendships, and new pressures and temptations are a lot to manage for developing minds. During this sensitive time in their lives, our students need correction alongside patience. They need boundaries, but also grace. And importantly, they need to see the adults in their lives modeling those qualities. Our children watch our actions more than we think. They are learning from us what forgiveness and compassion sound like, what it means to be kind when we don't feel like it, and how we respond when we don't get what we want. As our students grow and learn this year, our hope for them and for ourselves is that Jesus would be our guide, our peace, and our purpose.
