

Everything you wanted to know about climate, but were afraid to ask ...and what to do about it

THE SCIENCE

What's Happening to the Earth's Climate?

Dr. Daniel Dixon, UMaine Sustainability Director and on the faculty of the Climate Change Institute with graduate degrees in Climate Studies and Earth Sciences

What's Happening to the Oceans?

Dr. Jeffrey Runge, Oceanographer, UMaine Faculty of Marine Sciences and Gulf of Maine Research Institute

What's Happening to Maine Fisheries?

Robin Alden served as Maine Commissioner of Marine Resources and Ted Ames, PhD, fisherman and recipient of 2005 MacArthur (Genius) Fellowship Award

MITIGATION

Solar Energy for Your Home, Community and Town Government

Jonathan Hart, Revision Energy, Solar Design and Installation Expert

Reducing Fossil Fuel Emissions Through (Non-partisan) Political Action

Dr. Peter Garret, Director, Maine Citizens' Climate Lobby

Agroecology: The Low-hanging Fruit for Climate Stability and Biodiversity

Florence Reed, Director of Strategic Planning, Sustainable Harvest International

ADAPTATION

Sustainability 101: Building Resilience into Your Life and the Community

Profs. Nico Jenkins, PhD, and Thomas Stone, PhD, of Husson University

Home Design for Our Changing Climate

Carol Gregor (Home Design) and Dick Gregor (BSME, PE, LEED)

A Climate to Thrive: Showcasing its Climate Change Actions

Gary Friedmann, Chair of Bar Harbor Council & Co-director of A Climate to Thrive

PSYCHO-SOCIAL ASPECTS

Climate Stress and Psychology: Improving Understanding, Healing & Engagement

Dennis Kiley, Founder, EcoPsychological Initiative, Board of A Climate to Thrive

The Emotions of Climate Change

Dr. Amanda Bertana, UM, Sociologist & Member of the Scholars Strategic Network

The Spiritual Dimension of Climate Change

"Rev. Elaine Hewes: teacher, Lutheran Pastor, poet and retreat leader

CLIMATE CONVERGENCE CONFERENCE

at George Stevens Academy, July 20, 8:30-4:30

For information and to register go to www.reversingfalls.org

- Hosted By: Robert Shetterly of Americans Who Tell The Truth
- Student voices (middle, high school and college) in prose and poetry
- Local stories of climate action successes
- Information tables of organizations that are part of the solution
- And musical surprises