

Rabbi Marci R. Bloch

Rabbi Marci R. Bloch is proud to have joined the Trustbridge Team as Director of Jewish Outreach. Her gifts are many, but she particularly enjoys pastoral care, Jewish healing, and creative ritual.

Driven by a great sense of compassion and empathy, she recognizes the importance of spiritual and emotional support to individuals and families facing end-of-life challenges. Above all, she loves creating sacred relationships with others, inspiring people to live meaningfully and grow toward their best selves. She encourages people to develop their souls and a relationship with God.

Prior to coming to Trustbridge, Rabbi Bloch served as a Congregational Rabbi for twenty-one years. She was the Senior Rabbi of Temple Dor Dorim in Weston, Florida. Starting during Covid, she was grateful to use her creativity and her compassion to carry the community through this difficult time. She also served as the Senior Rabbi at Temple Beth Orr in Coral Springs, Florida. She was involved in all aspects of congregational life. After the Parkland shooting, she was an integral part in bringing healing to the community. Rabbi Bloch also served at congregations in Boca Raton, FL, and Indianapolis, IN, after her ordination from Hebrew Union College Jewish Institute of Religion, New York, in 2003. Rabbi Bloch also has completed a Clinical Pastoral Education Rabbinic Rotation at New York Medical Center in New York City.

Prior to rabbinical school, Rabbi Bloch received a master's degree in social work and a Certificate in Judaic Studies and Jewish Communal Service from the University of Michigan. She also holds a B.A. in Psychology from Michigan State University.

Rabbi Bloch has served as a board member for Hillel of Broward and Palm Beach counties. She has also been a member of the Board of Rabbis and Interfaith Coalitions in Palm Beach and Broward. She has been published in Reform Judaism Magazine as well as the Union for Reform Judaism (URJ) Outreach Manual. Rabbi Bloch has also been invited to present at the national and regional level.

Rabbi Bloch, originally from Michigan, and is married to Jason Epstein, from Ohio. In her leisure time, she enjoys movies, traveling, exercising, and Broadway musicals. More than anything, she loves spending time with her children, who are her constant teachers.
