

Rabbi Hector Epelbaum joined B'nai Torah Congregation in June of 2023 as Associate Rabbi.

Rabbi Hector Epelbaum has served as the spiritual leader of Temple Beth Israel since 2014. Born and raised in Buenos Aires, he was deeply involved in the Masorti/Conservative Youth Movement. After earning a master's degree in psychology, he went on to conduct his rabbinical studies at Seminario Latinoamericano, where he was ordained, as well as ordained in Israel at Bet Hamidrash Lelimudei Lahadut, HaRav Shmuel Avidor Hachoen. Rabbi Epelbaum served in Conservative pulpits for over 33 years in Argentina, Israel, and the United States. He is also an experienced Melton teacher. Rabbi is married to Berta, and they have three adult children and four grandchildren and counting.