- (2) Derive over fifty percent (50%) of gross revenue from the sale or transfer of personal information.

47-18-3103. Personal information rights; consumers.

(1) A consumer may invoke the consumer rights authorized pursuant to subdivision (a)(2) at any time by submitting a request to a controller specifying the consumer rights the consumer wishes to invoke. A known child's parent or legal guardian may invoke the consumer rights authorized pursuant to subdivision (a)(2) on behalf of the child regarding processing personal information belonging to the known child.

(2) A controller shall comply with an authenticated consumer request to exercise the right:

(A) To confirm whether or not a controller is processing the consumer's personal information and to access the personal information;

(B) To correct inaccuracies in the consumer's personal information, taking into account the nature of the personal information and the purposes of the processing of the consumer's personal information;

(C) To delete personal information provided by or obtained about the consumer;

(D) To obtain a copy of the consumer's personal information that the consumer previously provided to the controller in a portable and, to the extent technically feasible, readily usable format that allows the consumer to transmit the data to another controller without hindrance, where the processing is carried out by automated means;

(E) To request that a controller that sells or shares personal information about the consumer, or discloses the information for a business purpose, to disclose to the consumer:

(i) The categories of personal information about the consumer the business sold or shared;

(ii) The categories of third parties to which the personal information about the consumer was sold or shared by category of personal information for each category of third parties to which the personal information was sold or shared; and

(iii) The categories of personal information about the consumer that the business disclosed for a business purpose; and

(F) To prohibit a controller from selling or sharing personal information about the consumer by opting out.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in this part, a controller shall comply with a request by a consumer to exercise the consumer rights authorized pursuant to subdivision (a)(2) as follows:

(1) A controller shall respond to the consumer without undue delay, but in all cases within forty-five (45) days of receipt of the request submitted pursuant to subsection (a). The response period may be extended once by forty-five (45) additional days when reasonably necessary, taking into account the complexity and number of the consumer's requests, so long as the controller informs the consumer of the extension within the initial forty-five-day response period, together with the reason for the extension;

(2) If a controller declines to take action regarding the consumer's request, then the controller shall inform the consumer without undue delay, but in all cases and at the latest within forty-five (45) days of receipt of the request, of the justification for declining to take action and instructions for how to appeal the decision pursuant to subsection (c);

(3) Information provided in response to a consumer request must be provided by a controller free of charge, up to twice annually per consumer. If requests from a consumer are manifestly unfounded, excessive, or repetitive, then the controller may charge the consumer a reasonable fee to cover the administrative costs of complying with the request or decline to act on the request. The controller bears the burden of demonstrating the manifestly unfounded, excessive, or repetitive nature of the request; and

(4) If a controller is unable to authenticate the request using commercially reasonable efforts, then the controller is not required to comply with a request to initiate an action under subsection (a) and may request that the consumer provide additional information reasonably necessary to authenticate the consumer and the consumer's request.

(c) A controller shall establish a process for a consumer to appeal the controller's refusal to take action on a request within a reasonable period of time after the consumer's receipt of the decision pursuant to subdivision (b)(2). The appeal process must be conspicuously available and similar to the process for submitting requests to initiate action pursuant to subsection (a). Within sixty (60) days of receipt of an appeal, a controller shall inform the consumer in writing of action taken or not taken in response to the appeal, including a written explanation of the reasons for the decisions. If the appeal is denied, then the controller shall also provide the consumer with an online mechanism, if available, or other method through which the consumer may contact the attorney general and reporter to submit a complaint.

47-18-3104. Data controller responsibilities; transparency.

(a) A controller shall:

(1) Limit the collection of personal information to what is adequate, relevant, and reasonably necessary in relation to the purposes for which the data is processed, as disclosed to the consumer;

(2) Except as otherwise provided in this part, not process personal information for purposes that are neither reasonably necessary to nor compatible with the disclosed purposes for which the personal information is processed, as disclosed to the consumer, unless the controller obtains the consumer's consent;

(3) Establish, implement, and maintain reasonable administrative, technical, and physical data security practices to protect the confidentiality, integrity, and accessibility of personal information. The data security practices must be appropriate to the volume and nature of the personal information at issue;

(4) Not process personal information in violation of state and federal laws that prohibit unlawful discrimination against consumers. A controller shall not discriminate against a consumer for exercising the consumer rights contained in this part, including denying goods or services, charging different prices or rates for goods or services, or providing a different level of quality of goods and services to the consumer. However, this subdivision (a)(4) does not require a controller to provide a product or service that requires the personal information of a consumer that the controller does not collect or maintain, or prohibit a controller from offering a different price, rate, level, quality, or selection of goods or services to a consumer, including offering goods or services for no fee, if the consumer has exercised the right to opt out pursuant to § 47-18-3103(a)(2)(F) or the offer is related to a consumer's voluntary participation in a bona fide loyalty, rewards, premium features, discounts, or club card program; and

(5) Not process sensitive data concerning a consumer without obtaining the consumer's consent, or, in the case of the processing of sensitive data concerning a known child, without processing the data in accordance with the federal Children's Online Privacy Protection Act (15 U.S.C. § 6501 et seq.).

(b) A provision of a contract or agreement that purports to waive or limit the consumer rights under § 47-18-3103 is contrary to public policy and is void and unenforceable.

(c) Upon receipt of an authenticated consumer request, a controller shall provide the consumer with a reasonably accessible, clear, and meaningful privacy notice that includes:

(1) The categories of personal information processed by the controller;

(2) The purpose for processing personal information;

(3) How consumers may exercise their consumer rights pursuant to § 47-18-3103, including how a consumer may appeal a controller's decision with regard to the consumer's request;

(4) The categories of personal information that the controller shares with third parties, if any;

(5) The categories of third parties, if any, with whom the controller shares personal information; and

(6) The right to opt out of the sale or sharing to third parties and the ability to request deletion or correction of certain personal information.

(d) If a controller sells personal information to third parties or processes personal information for targeted advertising, then the controller shall clearly and conspicuously disclose the processing, as well as the manner in which a consumer may exercise the right to opt out of the processing.

(e) A controller shall establish, and shall describe in a privacy notice, one (1) or more secure and reliable means for consumers to submit a request to exercise their consumer rights under this part. The means must take into account the ways in which consumers normally interact with the controller, the need for secure and reliable communication of requests, and the ability of the controller to authenticate the identity of the consumer making the request. Controllers shall not require a consumer to create a new account in order to exercise consumer rights pursuant to § 47-18-3103, but may require a consumer to use an existing account.

47-18-3105. Responsibility according to role; controller and processor.

(a) A processor shall adhere to the instructions of a controller and shall assist the controller in meeting its obligations under this part. The assistance must include:

(1) Taking into account the nature of processing and the information available to the processor, by appropriate technical and organizational measures, insofar as this is reasonably practicable, to fulfill the controller's obligation to respond to consumer rights requests pursuant to § 47-18-3103; and

(2) Providing necessary information to enable the controller to conduct and document data protection assessments pursuant to § 47-18-3106.

(b) A contract between a controller and a processor governs the processor's data processing procedures with respect to processing performed on behalf of the controller. The contract is binding and must clearly set forth instructions for processing data, the nature and purpose of processing, the type of data subject to processing, the duration of processing, and the rights and obligations of both parties. The contract must also include requirements that the processor shall:

(1) Ensure that each person processing personal information is subject to a duty of confidentiality with respect to the data;

(2) At the controller's direction, delete or return all personal information to the controller as requested at the end of the provision of services, unless retention of the personal information is required by law;

(3) Upon the reasonable request of the controller, make available to the controller all information in its possession necessary to demonstrate the processor's compliance with the obligations in this part;

(4) Allow, and cooperate with, reasonable assessments by the controller or the controller's designated assessor; alternatively, the processor may arrange for a qualified and independent assessor to conduct an assessment of the processor's policies and technical and organizational measures in support of the obligations under this part using an appropriate and accepted control standard or framework and assessment procedure for the assessments. The processor shall provide a report of each assessment to the controller upon request; and

(5) Engage a subcontractor pursuant to a written contract in accordance with subdivision (b)(3) that requires the subcontractor to meet the obligations of the processor with respect to the personal information.

(c) This section does not relieve a controller or a processor from the liabilities imposed on it by virtue of its role in the processing relationship as described in subsection (b).

(d) Determining whether a person is acting as a controller or processor with respect to a specific processing of data is a fact-based determination that depends upon the context in which personal information is to be processed. A processor that continues to adhere to a controller's instructions with respect to a specific processing of personal information remains a processor.

47-18-3106. Data protection assessments.

(a) A controller shall conduct and document a data protection assessment of each of the following processing activities involving personal information:

(1) The processing of personal information for purposes of targeted advertising;

(2) The sale of personal information;

(3) The processing of personal information for purposes of profiling, where such profiling presents a reasonably foreseeable risk of:

(A) Unfair or deceptive treatment of, or unlawful disparate impact on, consumers;

(B) Financial, physical, or reputational injury to consumers;

(C) A physical or other intrusion upon the solitude or seclusion, or the private affairs or concerns, of consumers, where the intrusion would be offensive to a reasonable person; or

(D) Other substantial injury to consumers;

(4) The processing of sensitive data; and

(5) Processing activities involving personal information that present a heightened risk of harm to consumers.

(b) Data protection assessments conducted pursuant to subsection (a) must identify and weigh the benefits that may flow, directly and indirectly, from the processing to the controller, the consumer, other stakeholders, and the public against the potential risks to the rights of the consumer associated with such processing, as mitigated by safeguards that can be employed by the controller to reduce the risks. The use of deidentified data and the reasonable expectations of consumers, as well as the context of the processing and the relationship between the controller and the consumer whose personal information will be processed, must be factored into this assessment by the controller.

(c) The attorney general and reporter may request that a controller disclose a data protection assessment that is relevant to an investigation conducted by the attorney general, and the controller shall make the data protection assessment available to the attorney general. The attorney general may evaluate the data protection assessment for compliance with the responsibilities set forth in § 47-18-3104. Data protection assessments are confidential and not open to public inspection and copying. The disclosure of a data protection assessment pursuant to a request from the attorney general does not constitute a waiver of attorney-client privilege or work product protection with respect to the assessment and information contained in the assessment.

(d) A single data protection assessment may address a comparable set of processing operations that include similar activities.

(e) Data protection assessments conducted by a controller for the purpose of compliance with other laws, rules, or regulations may comply under this section if the assessments have a reasonably comparable scope and effect.

(f) Data protection assessment requirements applies to processing activities created or generated after January 1, 2023, and are not retroactive.

47-18-3107. Processing deidentified data; exemptions.

(a) The controller in possession of deidentified data shall:

- (1) Take reasonable measures to ensure that the data cannot be associated with a natural person;
- (2) Publicly commit to maintaining and using deidentified data without attempting to reidentify the data; and
- (3) Contractually obligate recipients of the deidentified data to comply with this part.

(b) This section does not:

- (1) Require a controller or processor to reidentify deidentified data or pseudonymous data; or
- (2) Maintain data in identifiable form, or collect, obtain, retain, or access any data or technology, in order to be capable of associating an authenticated consumer request with personal information.

(c) This section does not require a controller or processor to comply with an authenticated consumer rights request, pursuant to § 47-18-3103, if:

(1) The controller is not reasonably capable of associating the request with the personal information or it would be unreasonably burdensome for the controller to associate the request with the personal information;

(2) The controller does not use the personal information to recognize or respond to the specific consumer who is the subject of the personal information, or associate the personal information with other personal information about the same specific consumer; and

(3) The controller does not sell the personal information to a third party or otherwise voluntarily disclose the personal information to a third party other than a processor, except as otherwise permitted in this section.

(d) The consumer rights contained in §§ 47-18-3103 and 47-18-3104 do not apply to pseudonymous data in cases where the controller is able to demonstrate information necessary to identify the consumer is kept separately and is subject to effective technical and organizational controls that prevent the controller from accessing such information.

(e) A controller that discloses pseudonymous data or deidentified data shall exercise reasonable oversight to monitor compliance with contractual commitments to which the pseudonymous data or deidentified data is subject and shall take appropriate steps to address breaches of those contractual commitments.

47-18-3108. Limitations.

(a) This part does not restrict a controller's or processor's ability to:

(1) Comply with federal, state, or local laws, rules, or regulations;

(2) Comply with a civil, criminal, or regulatory inquiry, investigation, subpoena, or summons by federal, state, local, or other governmental authorities;

(3) Cooperate with law enforcement agencies concerning conduct or activity that the controller or processor reasonably and in good faith believes may violate federal, state, or local laws, rules, or regulations;

(4) Investigate, establish, exercise, prepare for, or defend legal claims;

(5) Provide a product or service specifically requested by a consumer, perform a contract to which the consumer is a party, including fulfilling the terms of a written warranty, or take steps at the request of the consumer prior to entering into a contract;

(6) Take immediate steps to protect an interest that is essential for the life or physical safety of the consumer or of another natural person, and where the processing cannot be manifestly based on another legal basis;

(7) Prevent, detect, protect against, or respond to security incidents, identity theft, fraud, harassment, malicious or deceptive activities, or illegal activity; preserve the integrity or security of systems; or investigate, report, or prosecute those responsible for such action;

(8) Engage in public or peer-reviewed scientific or statistical research in the public interest that adheres to all other applicable ethics and privacy laws and is approved, monitored, and governed by an institutional review board, or similar independent oversight entities that determine:

(A) If the deletion of the information is likely to provide substantial benefits that do not exclusively accrue to the controller;

(B) The expected benefits of the research outweigh the privacy risks; and

(C) If the controller has implemented reasonable safeguards to mitigate privacy risks associated with research, including risks associated with reidentification; or

(9) Assist another controller, processor, or third party with the obligations under this part.

(b) The obligations imposed on controllers or processors under this part do not restrict a controller's or processor's ability to collect, use, or retain data to:

(1) Conduct internal research to develop, improve, or repair products, services, or technology;

(2) Effectuate a product recall;

(3) Identify and repair technical errors that impair existing or intended functionality; or

(4) Perform internal operations that are reasonably aligned with the expectations of the consumer or reasonably anticipated based on the consumer's existing relationship with the controller or are otherwise compatible with processing data in furtherance of the provision of a product or service specifically requested by a consumer or the performance of a contract to which the consumer is a party.

(c) The obligations imposed on controllers or processors under this part do not apply where compliance by the controller or processor with this part would violate an evidentiary privilege under the laws of this state. This part does not prevent a controller or processor from providing personal information concerning a consumer to a person covered by an evidentiary privilege under the laws of the state as part of a privileged communication.

(d) A controller or processor that discloses personal information to a third-party controller or processor, in compliance with the requirements of this part, is not in violation of this part if the third-party controller or processor that receives and processes the personal information is in violation of this part, if, at the time of disclosing the personal information, the disclosing controller or processor did not have actual knowledge that the recipient intended to commit a violation. A third-party controller or processor receiving personal information from a controller or processor in compliance with the requirements of this part is likewise not in violation of this part for the transgressions of the controller or processor from which it receives such personal information.

(e) This part does not impose an obligation on controllers and processors that adversely affects the rights or freedoms of any persons, such as exercising the right of free speech pursuant to the First Amendment to the United States Constitution, or applies to the processing of personal information by a person in the course of a purely personal or household activity.

(f) Personal information processed by a controller pursuant to this section must not be processed for a purpose other than those expressly listed in this section unless otherwise allowed by this part. Personal information processed by a controller pursuant to this section may be processed to the extent that the processing is:

(1) Reasonably necessary and proportionate to the purposes listed in this section; and

(2) Adequate, relevant, and limited to what is necessary in relation to the specific purposes listed in this section. Personal information collected, used, or retained pursuant to subsection (b) shall, where applicable, take into account the nature and purpose or purposes of the collection, use, or retention. The data is subject to reasonable administrative, technical, and physical measures to protect the confidentiality, integrity, and accessibility of the personal information and to reduce reasonably foreseeable risks of harm to consumers relating to the collection, use, or retention of personal information.

(g) If a controller processes personal information pursuant to an exemption in this section, then the controller bears the burden of demonstrating that the processing qualifies for the exemption and complies with subsection (f).

(h) Processing personal information for the purposes expressly identified in subdivisions (a)(1)-(9) do not solely make an entity a controller with respect to the processing.

47-18-3109. Investigative authority.

If the attorney general and reporter has reasonable cause to believe that a person has engaged in, is engaging in, or is about to engage in a violation of this part, then the attorney general may issue a civil investigative demand.
