

Dear Bethesda Community Partner,

The St. Jane Frances de Chantal Sodality Guild is the oldest women's organization of St. Jane Frances de Chantal Parish. It was established in 1951 with the mission of meeting the special needs of our parish and community. In furtherance of our mission, we host an annual fashion show and luncheon as a fundraiser to sustain our service efforts. The success of this event depends critically upon the support of the local business community as well as the efforts of the members of our group.

This year's fashion show and luncheon will be held on March 2, 2019 at the Columbia Country Club. We hope you will consider making a tax deductible contribution to this important undertaking by purchasing an advertisement in our event program and/or donating merchandise to the event. Both of these options provide you the opportunity to showcase your business to our 250 guests through our program guide. Since we actively encourage all attendees at the fashion show to patronize our donors, your participation in our event establishes a mutually valuable partnership benefiting both of our organizations.

In addition, should you be interested, we have instituted an additional category of personal advertisements for our event program. Individuals or families who wish to do so may now share their personal support of the Sodality and its mission by placing this type of ad in the program.

Thank you for your generosity, which helps us to continue our mission of assisting our parish and the less fortunate of our community. We look forward to working with you to make this year's fashion show and luncheon a success. Please feel free to contact us if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Tracy McCabe Karen Salah
