

Surface Art has a proven track record of skilled craftsmanship and dedication to customer service. It was these attributes that attracted the new owners Steve & Deena Adkins to the business.

Steve came from a background in business, including Chief Operating Officer for Jamba Juice. Deena started in Social Work and then transitioned to Real Estate, running a Transaction Coordination business.

Steve had a long-time desire to run his own construction business, so when he stumbled upon the listing for Surface Art, it quickly became clear this was a perfect match: Remodeling business, high integrity owners, dedication to excellence. All things both Steve and Deena have focused on in their prior careers, plus the opportunity to work together.

A perfect combination, as the two have excelled at teamwork since their early years. Together they raised 2 children, managed careers, whole home remodels and moves around the country. Both grew up in Sonoma County and after many years away, they were ready to come home. Friends and family think they are a bit crazy, but they are always up for a new challenge.

Their vision for Surface Art is to maintain the prior owner's commitment to excellence and grow from there. From the standard stones to porcelain, wood and ultra-thin designer panels, if you can dream it they will make it happen.

Deena & Steve are reveling in the chance to be home again "We can't imagine a better place to live or work and are just thrilled to be part of this amazing community."
