

CONNECTING WITH AMISH AND OTHER PLAIN COMMUNITIES

A conference for Extension and related agency
professionals

NOVEMBER 1-3, 2022

BLUE GATE GARDEN INN
SHIPSHEWANA, IN

Do you often work with Amish and other plain communities?

Purdue Extension, Penn State Extension and Elizabethtown College are presenting "Working with Amish and Other Plain Communities" for Extension and related agency professionals.

Topics covered in the conference include:

- Overview of Amish, Mennonite and other plain groups across America
- Relations with the state and the wider English world
- Amish community organization, work and social change

Learn directly from a panel of Amish leaders about the industry, family life and agriculture in a question and answer session. Attendees will also have the opportunity to view Amish life firsthand on tours including furniture manufacturing, agriculture and family life.

To conclude the conference, three local Amish leaders will share their valuable perspectives and summarize the conference's key messages.
