

Healthcare Impact Lab: Training Program in Clinical Practice Improvement

Build real solutions for real healthcare challenges in 30 days

October 14, 21, 28 and November 4, 2026

(Four consecutive Wednesdays, 9 AM–12 PM PDT)

Location: Online

This program is geared toward healthcare professionals and staff who want to learn how to design and implement a clinical quality improvement (QI) initiative. You will identify a health care quality or patient safety issue in your setting that you want to improve, use project-based learning to solve real-world problems, and build skills in system level quality improvement methods and change management under the guidance of course faculty.
