

Chapter Development Council Releases Video Series

Are you a new convener, or leading a new chapter, or just interested in learning more about starting and running an Illuman chapter? The Chapter Development Council has released a five-part video series called What is a Chapter? Each 12–15-minute video covers one of five major topics concerning starting and running a chapter. The speakers include Brad Kuluris, former convener for the Arizona chapter; Ned Abenroth, co-convener for the Washington chapter; Terry Frisbie, former convener of the Texas chapter; and Seth Burgess, former co-convener of the New Mexico chapter. Here are the topics and links for each video:

What is a Chapter Episode One – Why We Have Chapters

<https://youtu.be/vfIHgXb4wkg>

What is a Chapter Episode Two – Activities Chapters Engage In

<https://youtu.be/hWJK24be5ow>

What is a Chapter Episode Three – Cost of Running a Chapter

<https://youtu.be/NzgX212oi30>

What is a Chapter Episode Four – How Do Chapters Gain Members?

<https://youtu.be/mmukPA9ZYrI>

What is a Chapter Episode Five – Deciding to Become a Chapter

<https://youtu.be/yW3Cwb-HysM>

The Chapter Development Council will provide resources, expertise, and assistance to any chapter or emerging chapter of Illuman. Contact Al Selder at akselder4@cox.net to get connected to the help you need.