

Exhibit: "Family Roots"

Through January 31, 2020

This new exhibit focuses on PA Governor Samuel Pennypacker's paternal family history and explores the arrival of the first ancestor in America in 1698 through to Samuel's generation. His research took him to Holland and Germany and correspondence with as many relatives as he could find. He did this without the benefit of the Internet, on-line resources we have today, or telephone!

Pennypacker's passion for family history is a great example to those of us who are seeking out our own genealogy.

The exhibit is included on all free guided tours of the Pennypacker mansion. Hours: Tues-Sat: 10 am to 4 pm; Sun: 1 to 4 pm. Closed Mondays & County holidays.
