| Listen to the Time for All Ages from the Worship at Home as a family and then discuss together after.  | Go outside today and spend some time birding. Which birds can you see? Can you identify any of them or their calls? Use audubon.org if you need help identifying birds that you see.  |  Celebrate the spring weather making your own rain drop mobile. Use shades of blue watercolors on sturdy paper, let dry, cut into raindrop shapes, and attach with string to a branch. | Have you signed up for a church pen pal? Send your pen pal a postcard, letter, email, or give them a call!  These pen pals of different ages will help us stay connected and help people to feel less lonely. | Our fifth UU principle, in simple language, is that everyone has a voice. Try living this principle with a family vote. You could vote on what to have dinner, what board game to play, or where to take a day trip this summer.  |  Play a game of hide-and-seek, a classic game that continues to be popular with generations of children and teens. For a twist, take turns hiding objects and searching for them. | Take the opportunity before or after a meal or during some downtime to light candles of joys and concerns with your family. What are you holding in your heart this week?  |
