WHO IS SEEDFOLK?

Seedfolk was founded by educators and entrepreneurs from high-needs schools and Kansas City's startup ecosystem, including Startland Education. We believe that students fluent in Design Thinking gain more options, agency, and power to shape their future. We believe the same of the professionals who serve them: when leaders, educators, and ecosystem builders develop entrepreneurial mindset through Design Thinking practice, they expand what they can do for the people and communities they support. Today, we partner with schools, universities, nonprofits, and organizations to bring that vision to life.
