Judith Kilbourne Award

The Judith Kilbourne Award was created by the Canadian Ski Council to reflect the contributions of Gordon Francis' daughter and founder of the Canadian Ski Council, Judith Kilbourne. It is presented annually to an individual who demonstrates a special interest and a personal love of skiing and snowboarding, has given quality volunteer time, either in addition to their professional time or as a volunteer. The award recipient is someone who cares about the future of the sport, its growth, and its importance as a lifestyle to Canadians and their families. This award recipient is someone who is a "Good Will Ambassador" for Canadian Ski Council's programs, has made remarkable contributions to skier/snowboarder development programs, and who can be viewed as leaving a legacy to the sport of skiing and snowboarding in Canada.

Jimmie Spencer Leadership Award

The Jimmie Spencer Leadership Award was created by the Canadian Ski Council to honour Jimmie Spencer, a leader in the ski and snowboard industry in Canada for 32 years. Jimmie Spencer is the former President and CEO of Canada West Ski Areas

Association. This award is presented to someone who has overcome a variety of challenges on their way to success and has become a positive leader in the ski and snowboard industry. The award recipient has demonstrated innumerable feats and achievements in the winter snow sports industry and should be a General Manager, Executive Director, President or Chairman or Director of one of the Canadian Ski Council's member organizations. In addition, the award recipient should show a credible commitment and recognized personal leadership regarding his/her contribution to the development and promotion of skiing and snowboarding in Canada.

Colin S. Chedore Lifetime Achievement Award

The Colin S. Chedore Lifetime Achievement Award was created the Canadian Ski Council to honour, Colin S. Chedore, a leader in the ski and snowboard industry in Canada, who worked as the President and CEO of the Canadian Ski Council for 23 years. This award is presented annually to an individual who has demonstrated ongoing passion and dedication in promoting and increasing participation in recreational skiing and snowboarding in Canada. The award recipient has made a significant contribution to the sports of skiing and snowboarding through research, advocacy, marketing, communications and promotion of the sport all while overcoming challenges to be successful in their role in the ski and snowboard industry. This individual also shows the importance of working together as an industry and demonstrates drive, ambition, hard work, dedication and commitment.
