University Expectations

Application Requirements

Participants must submit all required admissions materials, including immunization records, and official transcripts to their graduate program of choice.

Commitment to Universities

- Be a present and active student at your university and maintain a minimum GPA of 3.0.
- Enroll, register, and pass all required courses of your selected program of study, and graduate.
- Complete the number of credits your university requires per semester to maintain good academic standing.
- Communicate in a timely fashion with your university faculty advisor about any change in your program status, such as a leave of absence or a withdrawal.
- Personally pay to retake any failed or incomplete coursework.

Ed Prep NYC

Expectations

Commitment Letter

The commitment letter for the Ed Prep NYC Program serves as a formal agreement outlining the expectations and responsibilities of participants as they embark on their journey to becoming NYC Public Schools educators.

By signing this letter, candidates affirm their understanding and willingness to fulfill essential requirements, including completing all necessary NY State Education Department (NYSED) workshops, passing relevant certification exams, and obtaining the Transitional B Certificate within the specified deadlines.

Financial Commitment

What is the expected out of pocket expense for someone with a Bachelor's degree?

- Ed Prep NYC will cover tuition and fees for the first 28 credits toward accepted applicants' master's degrees.
- Each participant will be responsible for the remaining balance of $6,000 to complete the program.
- No loans are required—once participants secure a full-time certified teaching position with NYC Public Schools, the $6,000 balance will be repaid through payroll deductions.

How many semesters of school are required?

- Graduate coursework spans two academic years. If a participant leaves the program before completing this two-year commitment, they will be responsible for the cost of all coursework taken up to their departure date.
- Participants who need to take a leave of absence should contact their university partner directly to learn more about that institution's leave of absence policy.

Do I have to pay for my certification exams?

There may be an opportunity for reimbursement or stipends, depending on budget availability.

What happens to my health care coverage?

Once your designation changes, you will have access to teacher benefits which include choosing to remain in your current plan or a new plan.

What is the total cost of automatic payroll deductions?

These costs will be deducted from bi-weekly DOE paychecks in 44 equal installments ($~136/paycheck).

Transitional B Certification

Following successful completion of the first set of coursework, you are required to take the mandatory NYSED exams and workshops to acquire your Transitional B Certification.

Transitional B Certificate

Description	The Transitional B certificate is issued to eligible candidates who are enrolled in a NYS Transitional B program to teach in a school district for which a commitment for employment and mentoring has been made.
Validity	The Transitional B certificate is valid for up to three years from its effective date, except that a Transitional B certificate in a title that has a bilingual education extension may be reissued for one additional year, if the candidate qualifies for a Initial certificate in such title. When the student completes or leaves the program, the certificate is no longer valid. The Transitional B certificate authorizes a candidate to teach only in a school district for which a commitment for employment and mentoring has been made.
Leads to	The Transitional B certificate leads to the Initial certificate. The Initial certificate will be issued with the effective date of the Transitional B certificate.
Paper Certificate Printed?	No. Transitional B certification is verified in the TEACH system.
