

Patricia Pike: LAADC, CADC-II, ICAADC, CIP & CCIP
Licensed Addiction Specialist & Certified Intervention Professional

Patricia Pike: CEO and founder of Interventions Canada and CanAm Interventions. She is a Certified Intervention Professional, Addiction Specialist, and Educator with a mission to elevate the standard of care in the treatment for addiction and mental health conditions.

With over 25 years of on-site experience in behavioral health, Patricia specializes in alcoholism, substance abuse, addiction disorders and complex mental health challenges. She has conducted numerous successful interventions worldwide holding a citizenship both in the United States and Canada. Her dedication to this field is deeply personal, as she has been in long term recovery herself, and understands the nature of untreated addiction and the process of recovery. Drawing from her education, professional and personal experiences, she caters to individuals and their families to accommodate their specific needs.

Patricia's impressive credentials include a master's certification in addiction studies, licenses as a Licensed Advanced Alcohol Drug Counselor (LAADC) and Certified Alcohol and Drug Counselor (CADC-II), and recognition as an Internationally Certified Alcohol and Drug Counselor through the IC&RC (I.C.A.D.C). She is also a Certified Intervention Professional (CIP) through the Pennsylvania Certification Board, (CCIP) through The Canadian Addiction Counsellors Certification Federation and holds an Adult Instructor Diploma (AID) from Simon Fraser University. Ms. Pike sits on the board of the Association of Intervention Specialists (AIS), Patricia actively contributes to advancing her field by offering professional trainings throughout Canada and the United States.

In today's global addiction crisis, having certified and credentialed interventionists like Ms. Pike is paramount. Her expertise extends to complex substance abuse disorders/addictions and mental health challenges, family services and working with diverse populations, including first nation communities, business leaders, music/entertainment professionals, and employers.

As such, it has never been more important to have both highly effective and ethical approaches for interventions from a certified and credentialed interventionist. My level of devotion to increasing the standard of intervention certifications across the industry and its many specializations also led to the development of my own education program for professionals. Helping professionals become the best practitioners they can be, to help facilitate the likelihood of higher intervention successes and meeting client's needs.

Patricia firmly believes in fairness, equality, and the power of self-dignity in recovering from alcohol and/or drugs. With unwavering energy and passion, she strives to empower individuals and families, demonstrating that recovery is achievable for everyone. Everyone has a story to tell, my purpose is to be a voice for the voiceless.
