Multiple Farmington Public Schools' students recognized by the College Board National Recognition Programs

Farmington, MI – Students at both Farmington and North Farmington High School have been recognized by the College Board National Recognition Programs. North Farmington High School (NFHS) has nine students, and Farmington High School (FHS) has eight students named as College Board National Recognition Program awardees.

The College Board National Recognition Program students have earned their recognitions due to their academic achievements in school and outstanding performance on the PSAT/NMSQT, PSAT 10, and/or AP Exams. There is a minimum of a 3.5 GPA and a score in the top 10% of students in Michigan on the PSAT.

The College Board created the National Recognition Programs to recognize academic achievement among student populations that are often underrepresented at the university level.
