

Dear CACM,

I am honored to nominate this individual for the 2023 Vision Award presented by CACM. This individual is a dedicated professional who has made outstanding contributions to our industry, exemplifying the values and principles that the Vision Award seeks to recognize.

One of this nominee's most significant achievements is their remarkable initiative to secure an exclusive in-person interview with Scott Stewart, the former manager of Champlain Towers South. This interview was a pivotal moment in the aftermath of the tragic incident, shedding light on the events and lessons learned. This nominee recognized the importance of such a dialogue in preventing similar tragedies in the future. Through their diligence and commitment, they ensured that valuable insights from Mr. Stewart were shared with the industry at the 2023 CACM High-Rise and Large-Scale Summit. This proactive approach not only demonstrated This individual's dedication to learning from past mistakes but also their willingness to lead the industry towards a safer and more responsible future.

This nominee has also played a crucial role in shaping the direction of our industry through active involvement in various committees and councils. Their service on the Industry Partnership Council, as well as their participation in two local committees, exemplifies their commitment to improving the industry as a whole. By providing feedback to CACM on events and educational opportunities, this individual has helped ensure that our industry remains responsive to the evolving needs of professionals and associations alike. Their dedication to advancing educational standards and professional ethics has been instrumental in aligning the industry with best practices, ultimately benefiting not only the professionals but also the homeowners' associations (HOAs) we all serve.

What truly sets this nominee apart is their unwavering commitment to upholding the highest ethical standards in our field. They have consistently advocated for ethics that align with education and professional standards, which, in turn, enhances the reputation of our industry. Their efforts are not limited to personal advancement but are driven by a genuine desire to improve the lives of community association managers, vendors, and the communities they serve. Their work exemplifies the principles of integrity, transparency, and accountability that we should all aspire to in our profession.

This nominee has consistently demonstrated exceptional leadership, commitment, and dedication to the HOA industry. Their invaluable contributions in facilitating dialogue after the Champlain Towers South tragedy and their active involvement in shaping industry standards make them a deserving nominee for the 2023 Vision Award. This individual is a visionary professional who not only learns from the past but actively shapes a brighter future for our industry.

I wholeheartedly endorse this individual's nomination for the Vision Award and believe that their contributions and dedication make them an exemplary candidate for this prestigious honor.

Thank you for considering my nomination.
