

Councilmembers Sworn Into Office, Begin New Terms

Five members of City Council were sworn into office today and welcomed by family and friends during a reception at the Civic Center.

New Councilperson Stephanie Rodriguez and Councilperson Kevin Day were previously sworn into office as prior commitments prevented them from doing so this morning.

In addition to Vice Mayor Anthony Togliatti, Councilperson Dale Veverka joined new Councilmembers Matthew Benkner, Rebecca Somnitz, and Sarah Szweda to take the oath of office administered by Garfield Heights Municipal Court judges Deborah Nicastro and Sergio DiGeronimo, respectively.

L-R: Councilmembers Matthew Benkner, Rebecca Somnitz, Dale Veverka, and Sarah Szweda take the oath of office from Garfield Heights Municipal Court Judge Sergio DiGeronimo.

L-R: Judy Nicastro and Garfield Heights Municipal Court Judge Deborah Nicastro join Michelle Togliatti, Vice Mayor Anthony Togliatti, and sons Anthony Togliatti, and Dominic Togliatti during the reception.

L-R: Vice Mayor Anthony Togliatti is sworn into office by Garfield Heights Municipal Court Judge Deborah Nicastro.

Councilmembers Sworn Into Office, Begin New Terms

Continued from previous page

L-R: Amanda Sharrer is sworn into office by Garfield Heights Municipal Court Judge Deborah Nicastro as the City's Clerk of Council.

Councilperson Sarah Szweda and her family and friends enjoy the reception for the new members of City Council.

Councilperson Rebecca Somnitz welcomes her family during a reception honoring the incoming City Council.

Family and friends celebrate Matthew Benkner's new role with City Council.