Join us for the world premiere and group discussion of “Cultivating Hope,” a short film that highlights an amazing grassroots outreach providing a positive, hope-filled impact in the lives of elementary school children at four different sites on the US/Mexico border.

Filmmaker and former FDC seminary intern, Steve Zeoli, will host the film premiere and lead the discussion with Lorena Ocampo, FDC Pastor for Children and Families. We'll discuss how the Children's Enrichment Program got started, what challenges they face, and what's next for them.
