

Anticipating the Future of Education & Careers

The DuPage Regional Office of Education, in partnership with College of DuPage and Glenbard Parent Series, is pleased to present a free webinar on the role education will play in developing a workforce that produces rewarding careers and a thriving economy.

Tuesday, March 9 at 7 p.m.

With virtual teamwork becoming the norm and novel professions rapidly emerging, helping students define their career paths—and developing relevant curriculum—will be critical for future success.

In this webinar, strategist and author Heather E. McGowan will outline a world where humans must continuously learn and adapt while avoiding the pitfalls of information overload. Ranked as LinkedIn's number one global voice for education in 2017, McGowan helps leaders prepare their people and organizations for the Fourth Industrial Revolution.

Other panelists include DuPage Regional Office of Education Superintendent Dr. Darlene Ruscitti; College of DuPage President Dr. Brian Caputo; Glenbard High School District 87 Superintendent Dr. David Larson; and academic consultant and researcher Dr. Lourdes Ferrer-Allen.
