PROFILE

ROE Lead Hubs is a collaboration of IARSS Area Regional Offices of Education, working together to provide leadership support and services to schools and districts all over the state.

WHY MENTORING

"For a long time, principals were just managers running a building, and that has changed. Mentors help principals take a bigger picture perspective, use data, and implement a plan of action that meets the needs of schools today."

-Laura O'Donnell
Superintendent, Olympia CUSD 16

Dr. Lionel Allen, Jr. Bio:

In addition to his work as founder of ed Leaders Matter, Dr. Lionel Allen, Jr. is a Clinical Assistant Professor of Educational Policy Studies at the University of Illinois at Chicago (UIC), where he teaches a signature pedagogy course on cycles of inquiry and co-leads the full-year residency course for aspiring school leaders. Dr. Allen has over twenty years of experience as a teacher, assistant principal, principal, and chief academic officer. He is an education reform consultant, leadership coach, and a frequently invited motivational speaker. In 2005, Arne Duncan, former CPS CEO, selected Dr. Allen to become the first turnaround principal in Illinois. Under his leadership, the Sherman School of Excellence went from the second-worst performing school in Illinois to become a national model and a catalyst for future turnaround efforts across the country. Dr. Allen received his baccalaureate degree from Northwestern University and his master's and doctoral degrees from University of Illinois at Chicago.
