Join us for a free professional development workshop on Google's CS First program

g.co/csfirst

In this hands-on professional development workshop, teachers will learn how to use CS First, Google's free ready-to-teach introductory computer science (CS) curriculum for grade 4-8 students.

During the workshop, teachers will:
- Review the CS First curriculum
- Test drive a CS First class from a student and teacher perspective
- Develop a plan of action for teaching CS First in their classrooms

Most importantly, teachers will join the growing community of CS First educators from around the world.
