

Aaron R. Fenwick is the VP of Commercial & Industrial Lending at the Community Bank of the Chesapeake. The Community Bank of the Chesapeake is a full-service commercial bank, with assets over $1billion headquartered in Waldorf MD. As a Commercial and Industrial Loan Officer, Aaron focuses on generating commercial lending opportunities while building total banking relationships with the business community.

Aaron has over 15 years of experience in banking, client management, commercial credit, and project management. During his career he has developed and implemented strategic initiatives for both national regional and local sized organizations. Currently, Mr. Fenwick serves on the Business Retention and Expansion Task Force assisting the Charles County Economic Development Department to build a positive business environment for sustainable growth. He also serves on the executive board of the Westlake Business Association where he advocates for businesses in Waldorf, MD. Prior to serving on the executive board of the Community Foundation of Southern Maryland, Aaron served as an executive board member and Treasurer of the LaPlata Blue Knights.

Mr. Fenwick has a passion for economic development and believes that successful economic growth stems from individuals giving their talents, time and resources to improve the communities in which they live, work and play. Aaron is a resident of Charles County with his wife of 15 years, Kamila Fenwick and their 4 children Dorian, Dominic, Giovanna and Giuliana.
