

WEBINAR

Everyone Can Learn To Read:

Apr 27, 2022

12:00 PM

Teaching Literacy to Our Students with Disabilities

Everyone can learn to read, if they are taught. Literacy advocate and homeschool parent, Sarah Carlson-Wallrath seeks to erase the common misconception that students with intellectual and developmental disabilities cannot learn to read. While reading is complex, science-based, explicit instruction is highly effective. Learn what structured literacy instruction looks like and how to use it at home. Get suggestions on advocating in school for high expectations and effective reading instruction for your student.

LINK