Spring Walk at Tugaloo Bend Park

Saturday, April 6th, 10:00 to Noon

Join local naturalists for a walk through the river bottom forest at Tugaloo Bend Park. We will be looking out for a most unusual fern, the diminutive Southern Adder's Tongue Fern. Likely to be three species of Trillium blooming as well as Mayapple and several species of violets. Bring a picnic lunch to enjoy at the pavilion after the walk!

Moth Night at Tugaloo Bend Park

Saturday April 6th, Dark to 11:00PM

Join us for a night at the pavilion attracting moths and other night flying insects. We will have two light sets, one white and one ultraviolet, each attracting different moths.

We rarely get to look closely at the hundreds of species of moths present in our neighborhood. There are likely to be other wetland insects at our lights from the nearby beaver ponds.
